

Helping the world's biggest industries meet new challenges.

Today, major corporations are striving to become more environmentally friendly. And Moldex has been listening.

Because PVC and Phthalates are linked to environmental problems, over 150 major corporations have taken a stand against the use of PVC in their products and/or packaging and recently the U.S. Congress has banned use of DHEP phthalates in children's toys. Moldex has responded by developing the only 100% PVC & Phthalate free full line of hearing and respiratory products in the world.

For over thirty years, Moldex has continually designed innovative products to meet the challenges of industry.

Now, let Moldex help you meet the challenges of a changing world.
